

Mantel statistics compare two distance structures

Primary Spearman tests use Holm correction across three prespecified blocks

The partial Mantel row uses Pearson correlation and is a sensitivity analysis only.
Distance correlation does not identify an independent environmental cause.